POPE LEO AND THE KING.

HIS MANIFESTO AGAINST THE QUIR-INAL A MARK OF HIS TACT. King Humbert's Funeral a Fit Occasion for Papal Assertion-Otherwise Catholics Might

Think Vatican Ready to Get On With the New King-Clericals Prefer Socialists. ROME, Aug. 17 .- King Humbert's funeral shows the perfect diplomatic tact of the Holy See's conduct toward the Quirinal. Nothing is changed, nothing will be changed in the Papal policy. With jealous care the Pope has made a clear distinction between religious prayer and the cooperation of the Vatican with the affairs of the unitarian monarchical rule. Thus it is that the Holy Father has held no communication with the royal household, that the great basilicas, the property of the Holy See, have had no part in the funeral services, that the Vatican called the prelate who was to receive the mortal remains from the North, that, finally, the Pope has shown in every way that he does not recognize and will never recognize the sovereignty of the House of Savoy and the legality of the present Govern-

That point is essential. It is the loud asseveration of the Papacy's unchangeable ourse. The Quirinal is and will remain always, so far as the supreme spiritual power is concerned, a usurping and revolutionary power; the tiouse of Savoy is and will always be a dynasty with no diplomatic honesty or recognized rights, and the Government established n Rome is and always will be the hostile and foreign power posted before the Vatican as a sign of war and or resistance.

As since Victor Emmanuel's death, however, excommunication no longer hangs over the Quirinal the Pope has been merciful and has llowed the dead man to receive the consolations of the Church. This irreproachable anduct maintains at the same time the rights of the Pope and of Christendom and yet shows the care of the Church for souls. The Holy ather arranged this matter with his own light and gentle hand: the great drama that covers so many interests, passions and intrigues has passed off like a stage play wrapped

This attitude, both correct and firm, has not prevented rumor mongers and the party of onciliation from spreading extraordinary reports, as though, for instance, the modus wendi so long desired by the guardians of the throne and the jailers of the Vatican were going to come about by enchantment. Even some conservative newspapers have thought et to lay stress on the Quirinal's inclination for peace and reconciliation, an inclination which Free Masonry would prevent from taking form in an act of appeasement. We are face to face with the eternal hypocrisy and underhand game of the party of conciliation. That ill-matched team strives for but one end: ogain time, to induce the Vatican to be patient and to thus soothe, by means of the narcotic power of established facts, the deadly

The Vatican, therefore, expects some new scene to wrest from the Pope the abolition of the non expedit and silent acquiescence

Wilhelm II. will second Queen Margherita's designs the more willingly because she has always shown pro-German feelings and beause conciliation would strengthen the Central European alliance with the Consulta. Attentions will be again showered on the Holy at the same time chloroform the Free Masons and deceive the Vatican, two operations that are impossible. It is true that the Triple Alliance is discounting in advance the reign of the coming Pope, but it forgets apparently that every precaution has been taken and that fication of the present Pontificate

J. W. Mollenhauer Says He Will Be Responst ble No Longer for Wife's Bills.

This notice appeared yesterday in a Brooklyn

I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife. Mrs. Julia M. Mollenhauer from this date.— Brooklyn. Sept. 8, 1999. J. WILLIAM MOLLENHAUER.

Mrs. Mollenhauer is the woman who alleged that she and a negress who accompanied her to a cakewaik were assaulted in a stable in Willlainsburg one week ago last night, and that she was robbed of five diamond rings. Speaking yesterday of the notice her husband caused to be published, she said:

"He is doing something which he has no right to do. We are living together and he will be responsible for my debts. I have not called upon him to pay anything yet, and if he has been presented with a number of bills they are his own. Only recently I paid a dress bill for 500; a flower bill for 500, and a caterer's bill for 500. These bills I know he has not been called upon to pay. The debts he has paid he contracted himself. I have not been treated fairly in this matter. I had $500 in bank in my own name and all I got out of that was $10. The rest went to the family. If I had that money now I would not be compelled to do my own housework." Mr. Mollenhauer could not be found. It was

be published, she said:

COUNSELLOR NOLAN DUCKED.

Thought a Blast Was Going Off When He Saw

Police Commissioner Sexton, Counsellor Notan and Register Fromme were walking across the Deal, N. J., golf links one day last when a caddle wagged a red flag over one to indicate its position. Mr. s ulder, yelled in his ear: Ouek, Counsellor, they're going to blast!" Ouek, Counsellor, they're going to blast!" Ouek, Counsellor, blast population of flying sword and put up his arm to ward off flying

Plans were filed yesterday by Price & Darrach, schitzets, for a ten-story fireproof apartment use and dormitory to be built by the Morn ide Realty Company on the west side of the on Amsterdam avenue, from 120th to street, for the use of the students of milia University. The building will have a age of 200 feet on the avenue and a depth of feet. It will have a façade of orna-tal brick, ilmestone and terra cotta, and Edward Debarry, colored, of West 148th street, died of heart disease on the Central Railroad ferryboat Communipaw while she was on her 8 o'clock A. M. trip from Liberty street to Bey City yesterday. County Physician Con-segave a permit for the removal of the body.

NOTES OF LEGAL EVENTS.

The decision of the House of Lords in the celebrated case of Walter against Lane, maintaining the copyright of the London Times in its verbatim reports of Lord Rosebery' speeches is entirely satisfactory so far as it deals with the precise question before the court, which was whether the publisher, Lane, might lawfully copy the reports printed in the Times. The judgment can hardly be commended, however, if its effect is to deprive a public speaker of all control over the publication of his utterances and leave such control to the shorthand writers or their employers who are the first to report and transcribe the speeches and put them into print in compliance with the statute relating to copyright. If such is to be the result of the decision, public orators will have to print and copyright their addresses in advance of their actual delivery from the rostrum. As a correspondent of the Spectator well puts it: "The object of copyright is the protection of the author. A speaker would appear to be as much the author of his speech as a writer of his writings. The law should secure to every man proprietorship in the work of his brain. Common sense seems o suggest that the delivery of a speech in public is but a form of publication." This much seems certain: Whatever rights the first verbatim reporter may be allowed to acquire under the copyright law, they should not extend so far as to prevent the speaker himself from reproducing his utterances in print

The Republican Governor of Massachusetts has appointed Mr. Jabez Fox, a Gold Democrat, his wife around Baltimore for a day, Mr. Brafto fill the vacancy on the bench of the Superior Judge. It was suggested that his example a divorce. Mrs. Brafman assumed the ought to be imitated by Gov. Roosevelt in selecting a successor to the late Frederick Smyth | had a slight acquaintance with Fanny Davenas a Justice of the Supreme Court in this city: port, having met her socially several times. and in some quarters the appointment of Joseph F. Daly was earnestly advocated. It has always been the custom here, however, for the Governor to make temporary appointments to the bench from among lawyers belonging to his own political party; although in other parts of the State, notably during Gov. Hill's administration, judicial appointments have been made without reference to political affiliations. No criticism can justly be made upon Gov. Roosevelt, therefore, for appointing Mr. James A. Blanchard to succeed Judge Smyth. Mr. Blanchard's term of service will last until the end of 1901. If the vacancy had occurred more than three months before election day, it could have been filled by election this year. As it occurred less than three months before election day, however, it cannot be filled by election until next year, and the office is required to be filled by an appointment by the Governor, which expires on Dec. 31, 1901. ways been the custom here, however, for the the Governor, which expires on Dec. 31, 1901.

What is the meaning of the phrase, "during the whole currency of the policy," in a contract of marine insurance? This question recently arose in London before Mr. Justice Bigham, while holding that part of the Queen's Bench Division commonly known as the Commercial Court. There was a provision in the instrument to the effect that one-eighth of the sonality rather than his attainments. Although all critics agree that his highest title to distincthat he was not conspicuously successful as a parliamentary speaker, or on his party platform or at public dinners; and he was lacking in the humor usually characteristic of Irish orators. In stating and arraying the facts of a case, however, he had no equal among his rivals cess in this respect to his practice of narrating events in the order of their occurrence in time.

Mr. Edmund Wetmore of this city has succeeded the Hon. Charles F. Manderson of Nebraska as President of the American Bar Asso-Such is the truth: all else is mere lies and ciation, which recently held its twenty-third annual meeting at Saratoga. Senator Manderson, in his presidential address, commended the report of the Committee on Law Reporting, especially that part of it which declares that "it would be a relief to the profession if Judges would refrain from writing long discussions of questions of law that are well settled and from making long quotations from former opinions and numerous citations in support of conclusions on which there is no difference of opinion." This suggestion ought to be universally observed. It must be remembered, however, that in tri-bunals which have to deal with questions of fact, elaborate, or at all events careful discussion of the facts, is often necessary in order to satisfy the litigants that their case has received the attention and consideration which they think it deserves. We agree, however, that most of the opinions which are lengthened on this account might well be emitted from the law reports, as they seldom afford any aid in the

> The Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts has recently decided a case of some importance to those travellers in a public street, who are exposed to danger from objects falling from adjacent buildings in process of repair. The plaintiff was walking on a street in Taunton, when she was struck and injured by a brick which fell from a chimney on the defendants' factory premises,* The defendants had employed an expert to mend the chimney in his own way and it was he who negligently let fall the brick which did the damage. The court declares that this expert alone is liable to the injured passerby. He was an independent contractor; the work which he undertook to do was not necessarily dangerous to travellers If carefully done and the owners were not responsible for the failure of the contractor to take precautions to protect persons on the highway from bricks which might possibly fall from the chimney. The plaintiff therefore loses a verdict of $2,500.

We have received from Mr. A. J. Rodenbeck the chairman, a pamphlet containing his preliminary report to the Special Joint Committee of the Legislature on the Statutory Revision Commission bills submitted to that body. The Statutory Revision Commission created Its plan contemplated the enactment of sixty General Laws and five Codes. Mr. Rodenbeck thinks that the revision of the General Laws will have to be completed along the lines indicated by the commission. It is too late, he says, to do otherwise. This is because many of the General Laws drafted by the commission have already been adopted. Mr mission have airceasy search page examina-tion of the session laws to be made in order to ascertain whether the proposed General Laws include everything embraced within the plan of revision. No less than 48,788 laws have been revision. No less than 48,786 laws have be enacted in New York since it became a State.

ACTOR MACDOWELL IN JAIL.

HIS JUNE BRIDE SUES IN SEPTEM-BER FOR A SEPARATION.

she Was in Fanny Davenport's Company When Fanny Davenport Was Mrs. McDowell-A Hasty Marriage Followed. She Says, by Divers Cruelties-Girl at Maxim's Figures.

Melbourne MacDowell, husband of the late Fanny Davenport, and a well-known actor himself, was locked up in the Ludlow Street Jail yesterday afternoon, having been taken into sustody earlier in the day at the Brevoort House by Deputy Sheriff Walgering, on an order of arrest issued by Justice McAdam. The order was issued on the application of Howe & Hummel, representing Wilhelmina Maria Mac-Dowell, the actor's present wife, who has begun an action for separation on the ground of inhuman treatment. MacDowell and the deputy sheriff spent nearly three hours after the arrest actor's bond, which had been fixed at $2.000. They were unsuccessful, and at a o'clock Walgering and his prisoner appeared at the Ludlow Street Jail. There MacDowell will probably have to stay until to-morrow morning.

The present Mrs. MacDowell when she married the actor was the divorced wife of a Baltimore stock broker named Lewis Brafman Her maiden name was Strauss, and her tather William Strause, is a well-known citizen of Baltimore. She was only about 21 years of age when, in 1893, she married Mr. Brafman. The couple were never happy and, after following man discharged a pistol at her one afternoon, ourt caused by the resignation of a Democratic | They separated and later on Braiman obtained name of Wilton and took to the stage. She She applied to Miss Davenport for work and that actress gave her a small part in several plays. She never distinguished herself as an actress and a little later retired from the stage and Mrs. Braiman even telegraphed debials to several New York newspacers.

In her complaint in the action for a separation Mrs. MacDowell recites the facts of her marriage, and adds that she and her husband sailed for Europe immediately after the ceremony, on the steamer Statendam. From the moment they boarded the ship, Mrs. MacDowell alleges, her husband began to drink. He was intoxicated most of the time, she says, and neglected her for other women whom he had never met before. She declares that he would sit around obscure corners of the deck with certain women passengers until late at night, when everybody else, including herself, had retired. His conduct, she alleges, finally gave rise to comment, and was a topic of general discussion on the boat. The entire journey, she says, was a constant humiliation to her.

ment to the effect that consecuent of the instead of the non-report of the section of the non-report of the section of the non-report of the section of the she alleges that her husband and the woman's apartments. Having seen this much she went back to her hotel.

It was 5 o'clock in the morning, she alleges, when her husband came in. He was very drunk, she says, and when she protested about his treatment of her struck her and tore off her hat and a chain which she was wearing around her neck. After this Mrs. MacDowell says she and her husband moved to 178 Victor Hugo avenue. On Aug. 3, she says, she went to the service at Notre Dame. When she returned in the evening her husband had gone out. He returned at 4 o'clock in the morning, she says, his face and clothing covered with blood. He told her that he had been thrown from an automobile. Later she lean's d that he had fiftred with a girl's escort called him to account, knocked him down and kicked him in the face. Her husband was arrested at the time for beginning the fight, but was discharged in the station house. In London later, she says, MacDowell constantly abused her. Oncei he tried to strangle her, she says, and another time he tore the whole front of her dress open.

On Aug. 23 they saile! for home, arriving on the Sist, and going straight to the Brevoort House. He continued his drinking, she alleges, and abused her all the time. On Sept. 4, she says, he came in and opening the front of his shirt showed her a locket, which he said had been given to him by the only woman he had ever loved. He told her that he would wear it until he was clead. He then invited her to go out with him to see the sights, telling her of a great time he had had the night before in a certain Brock way apartment house. She refused to go with him, whereupon he suggested that they separate and that she get some other man to take care of her.

The affidavit does not go any further than this. The rest of the story of the marital infelicities of the couple is well known around it her affidavit does not go any further than this. The rest of the story of the marital infelicities of the couple is well known around the Brevoort liduse. On Thu

For what?" demanded the actor, apparently

"But I didn't know they could arrest a man in a suit like that "said MacDowell." Whe do sometimes," said Walkering, and then he ordered the actor to finish his tellet in a hurry and come along. MacDowell asked for an opportunity to get bail. Walkering, said that he would give him a reasonable time, but no bond-man was found. To a Sux man, who sent in a note to him at the inil, MacDowell sent cut the following reply:

"I am too much flustered and excited at the present time to talk about this unfortunate matter."

"Melbourne MacDowell is a very well-known actor. He was Farony Davenport's leading man in all of the Sardou plays that that actress made famous, and finally became her husband. The pair were very successful together and apparently were happy. After the death of Miss Davenport MacDowell, wishing to continue his work in the Sardou plays, secured the services of Blanche Walsh. The pair made an extensive tour of the West last season and made a great deal of money, Miss Walsh assuming the roles that Miss Davenport and that he was also contemplating the sale of her beautiful home at Duxbury. Mass. MacDowell never made any public denial of these stories, aithough they aroused a great deal of indignation among the theatrical friends of Miss Davenport.

"The policy of the was also contemplating the sale of her beautiful home at Duxbury. Mass. MacDowell had sold all of the magnificent jewels collected during her life by Fanny Davenport and that he was also contemplating the sale of her beautiful home at Duxbury. Mass. MacDowell never made any public denial of these stories, aithough they aroused a great deal of indignation among the theatrical friends of Miss Davenport.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Ernestine Schumann-Heink and Leonora Jackson are to be heard in concert at Carnegie Hall on Oct. 11. This will be the practical open ing of the local musical season. The Kaltenborn concerts after the close of September will be transferred to the Herald Square Theatre on every Sunday evening. The attendance continues large, in spite of the opening of the theatres, and the final weeks of the season will in all probability be prosperous. Carl Engel and Hermann Beyer-Hane are to be the soloists to-night. The full programme is as Overture, "Oberon".

L Rouet d'Omphale (Omphale's Spinning Wheel.)
Kammenol Ostrow Rubinstein

mmenol Ostude ing orchestra: "The Deluge" Violin solo, Carl Engel. "Donce Caresse econd Polonalse verture, "Sakuntala"...... verture, "Zampa" neral March cetton, "Mikado"

Selection, "Mikado".

As imphore will be placed as usual on Tuesday, and on Thursday evening a Wagner programme will be given.

The Kneisel Quartette will give five evening and three afternoon concerts of chamber music in the coming season, the dates being as follows: Evenings Nov. 20, Jan. 8, Feb. 26, March. 26 and April 9. Afternoons—Oct. 30, Dec. 18, and Feb. 5. The works to be performed are Haydn's Quartettes, op. 76, No. 2, and op. 77, No. 2. Mozart's Quartette in A major, Beethoven's Quartette op. 18, No. 5, op. 59, No. 3, op. 127, and op. 33, Schubert's in Gminor and Cminor, Brahms's 133; Schubert sin 6 minor and c minor, Braums 8 op. 51, No. 1; Dvorak's op. 51, Duverno's op.
46. D'Indy's in E maior, Dohnany's (manuscript), Bach's Sonata in E flat for planofortet and violin. Brahms's Trio, op. 87; Brahms's Quintet, op. 111; C. M. Loeffler's Sextet (manuscript) and Cesar Franck's Quintet in F minor. Subscriptions will be received at Schuberth's, Union Square.

It has been arranged that neither MM. Saléza or Van Dyck is to sing with the Maurice Grau Opera Company on its tour in any city but San Francisco. They will return to this city imme and await here the arrival of the other singers In all probability, the operas of the Nibelungen Ring will be sung by a detachment of the Maurice Grau Opera Company, which is to visit Cincinnati and other Western cities next spring. MM. Van Dyck and Dippel and Mmes. Ter-nina, Gadski and Schumann-Heink will be in e company. The Metropolitan Grand English Opera Com The Metropolitan Grand English Opera Company is to sing Arthur Goring Thomas's "Esmeralda" as the first novelty of the English season. The opera was sung at Drury Lane first in 1883 and was revived later at Covent Garden. The composer died ten years ago. Clementine de Vere is to sing leading soprano riles next winter with the Moody-Manners Opera Company in England. She will make her first appearance in "Aida" and is to sing in "The Jewess" also. The company is to give "Tristan and Isolde" in English, with Lucille Hill and E. C. Hedmondt in the leading roles. Hamish McCunn and Signor Sapio are to be the directors.

Johann Kubelik is not after all to come to this country next year, as he is said to hold his services at a flurre no manager could next

Johann Kubelik is not after all to come to this country next year, as he is said to hold his services at a figure no manager could pay with any degree of profit Andreas Dippel is to sing in concert under the management of C. L. Groff before the open-ing of the season at the Metropolitan and so will Mme. Gadski. Marie Mattfeld is to be a member of Mme. Sembrich's opera company She will sing in "Le Barbiere di Seviglia," "La Traviata" and "Lucia di Lammermoor."

When Signor Fernando di Lucia decided not to come to America, but to assume instead the management of the San Carlo at Naples, he promised to restore all the former giories MM. Salignac and Gilbert and Mme. Deina are to be in the company engaged for Monte Carlo this season. Mme. Passaine has also been engaged and Rey will conduct the orchestra. "Patrie." "Cendrillon," "Iphigenie en Tauride and "Louise" will be sung.

A menument will soon be erected in Madrid to Garcia Gutierrz, who wrote "El Trovador." from which Verdi took the text of "Il Trovatore."

"The Flying Dutchman" will be sung next summer at Bayreuth for the first time. It will be sung five times. There are to be two eveles of the Nibelungen Ring and seven performances of "Parsifal." "Tristan und Isolde" will conduct most of the performances, as Hans Richter will only conduct the Ring and Felix Motil will not take part in the festival at all Mmes Gulbranson, Schumann-Heink and Witlieh of Dresden and MM. Van Rooy, Burgstaller and Friederichs have already been engaged, among the better known artists. Added to these is the usual number of unknown graduates of the Wagner School at Bayreuth. A company of German singers is to give performances of the Ring operas in the original tongue next April.

Mme Schumann-Heink has been singing recently at the Royal Opera House in Berlin. She appeared in "Bailo in Maschera" and "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

Gustav Mahler, who has kept the personnel of the Imperial Opera House at Vienna constantly stirred up since the day he went there, has just given orders that the chorus shall not wear beards. This refers, of course, to the men. A revival of "Rienzi," which required the nen to appear as smooth-faced Romans, led to the order. The singers struggled vio-

George Vierling celebrated in Berlin on Wedresday the seventieth anniversary of his birth. He is the composer of numerous songle, orchestral and cheral works.

Angelo Neumann is soon to revive at Prague Peter Cornelius's opera "Le Cid," but before "For what?" demanded the actor, apparently very much surprised.
"Order of arrest in a separation suit brought by your wife," said Walgering.
"But I didn't know they could arrest a man in a suit like that "said MacDowell.
"We do sometimes," said Walgering, and then he ordered the actor to finish his tellet in a hurry and come along. MacDowell asked for an opportunity to get bail. Walgering said that he would give him a reasonable time, but no bondsman was found. To a Sun man, who sent in a note to him at the inil, MacDowell sect out the following reply:
"I am too much flustered and excited at the present time to talk about this unfortunate matter."

"An too much flustered and excited at the present time to talk about this unfortunate matter."

"An too much flustered and excited at the present time to talk about this unfortunate matter."

NOTICE, THIS IS MY WIFE:

BARBER DELLOYORIO POSTS A WARN-ING TO CUSTOMERS.

Mrs. Delloyorlo's Applying the Lather Led to Trouble With an Impressionable Young Man: Hence the Posted Sign-It Seems to Have Solved the Conversational Problem. John Delloyorio opened a barber shop at 99 Park row recently and word was sent along the line that the prices would be five cents for clerks and authors drifted into the establish-a shave and ten cents for a hair cut. Longhaired poets, short-haired pugilists, printers, ment, impelled by force of circumstances and a dearth of collateral Dellovorio made al his customers feel at home, and his patrons became so numerous that on occasions he called upon his wife, Marie Amelie, to assist him. She was not trusted with a razor, but on the occasions when she assisted her husband allowed her to apply the lather. A young man upon whose face Marie Amelia gently used the brush a few days ago made flirtations remarks to her in her husband's hearing. Delloyorlo's fist promptly caught hearing. Delioyorlo's fist promptly caught the young man on the point of the jaw and knocked him out of the chair. Delioyorio was arrested then and put under bonds not to assault any man who was lathered by Mrs. Delioyorio. As the barber's wife is a very young woman, with dark eyes which might cause more trouble at any time, it became clear to Dolloyorio then that heroic measures must be taken to protect himself against legal entanglements of the kind that lead to the police court. He pondered over the matter, and as as a result yesterday he hung a sign in the barber shop where it can be seen by all customers, reading as follows:

In order to avoid misunderstanding. I note to all my eustomers that the lady in this barber shop is my wife.

JOHN B. DELLOYORIO.

Mrs. Delloyerio was applying the lather brush as usual last night, but not one of the customers had anything to say to her. When Delloy rio applied the razer there was an equally deep silence in the room. Delloyerio explained to a Six reporter that he thought he had solved the barber shop conversational problem. "They do-a be-a Traid to talk-a to de weman with tha brush an' me-a with tha raza," said he. "Then everboda shutt-a up. I tell-a my wife putt-a da soap on a man. He gett-a loving. My motto now ever boda in barber shops shutt-a up. Don't do! Too mucha talka business."

FRIDAY AND EACH MAN WAS NO. 13 Two Men Released From Eric County Pent-

Rochester, Sept. 8.-Two criminals who were discharged from the Eric County Penitentiary yesterday have reason to be superstitious, according to a story told by Defective John McDonald. The detective went to Buffalo vesterday to get Frank McPartiin, who was wanted here for a hold-up. McFartlin robbed Park Policeman Leavis last winter while he was assisting I eavis to go to a hotel. Leavis was in the pavement. It was learned that Leavis had been robbed, and before he died he implicated McPartlin and another man.

Fifteen men were being released from the penitentiary at Buffalo, and as they stood up in line the Warden told them to count off. Mcline the Warden told them to count off. Mc. Partlin was the thirteenth man. He raised his hand and the Warden a-skedhim what he wanted. 'Vister, that aint a fair shake,' he said, awkwardly. 'Count from the other end of the line. I don't want ter be the thirteenth man.'

The Warden, more to humor McPartlin than for any other reason, counted off from the othes end of the line, and John's Thurston was the thirteenth man on that count. Thurston was slightly disturbed, but he said he didn't helieve it meant anything. After receiving their final instructions the men were let go. At the door McPartlin and Thurston were accosted by two officers, the thirteen others being allowed to go undisturbed. McDonald read a warrant to McPartlin, charging him with the hold-up, and then led his man away. Thurston was arrested by an officer from Olean, N. Y. on a charge of burglary.

Before separating the two prisoners gave

N. Y. on a charge of burglary.

Before separating the two prisoners gave the officers to understand that if they hadn't been counted off as number thirteen they would never have been arrested. They also happened to think that it was Friday, and then hey were certain that nothing could have but She Remounts and Wins a Brush. hunt to-day with the hounds of the Monmouth County Club in which there was quite a field of fiders, and tolend excitement to the affair one of the riders, a woman, was thrown. She immedjately took her saddle again and was second in at the death. The meet was at "Oakland Farm." the country place of Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, and there were a large number of society folk to see the start, it practically being the only social event of the day. Mr. P. F. Collier, master of the hounds, sent the pack off shortly after 4 o'clock and the riders were soon in pursuit. Those who followed the hounds were Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg, Miss Greta Pomerov, F. Gray Griswold, J. Clinch Smith, G. Griswold, 2d, Robert L. Gerry and Ogden Mills, Jr. The chase was over twelve miles of rough country, and there were many jumps, some quite difficult. Very soon after the start Mrs. Ladenburg's hunter lost his footing after clearing a stone wall, and stumbling, Mrs. Ladenburg was thrown to the ground. It was not a bad fall, more of a slide from the saddle. The other riders went to Mrs. Ladenburg's assistance, but she did not wait for them, getting into her saddle without help, she was soon after the hounds again. The death was at the top of Honeyman Hill, and Mr. F. Grav Griswold was the first in closely followed by Mrs. Ladenburg, with Miss Pomeroy third Mrs. Ladenburg got the brush, being the first woman.

SOCIAL EVENTS AT NEWPORT. Spirited Fox Hunt-Mrs. Ladenburg Unseated,

Other social events to-day were a luncheon on the Nourmahal by Mrs. J. J. Astor and dinners to-night by Mrs. C. W. Dolan, Mrs. George B. De Forest and Mrs. Herbert R. Bishop. Mr and Mrs. Oliver H. P. Beimont closed their Newport season to-day and left for Hot Springs. after 4 o'clock and the riders were soon in

COULDN'T KEEP AWAKE.

Robert Malthie in a Semi-Comatose State for

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 8.-Robert Malthie has been in a semi-comatose state since Tuesday. Malthie is about 20 years of age and lives with his parents on the Dryden place in West Dunellen. He has always been an energetic fellow and played a good game at end on the Dunellen football team last fall.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 8.-Gen. O'Grady When he reached the railway station he was met by a number of British army veterans, waiting for nearly one hundred members of the British Naval and Military Veteran Assothe British Sayat and shiftery Veteran Asso-ciation of Boston, who are here on an excur-sion. The Boston veterans are headed by Col. J. E. Blunt, British Consul at Boston, and were received with a salute of thirteen guns from the Citadel. They will remain here till Wednesday.

People's Singing Class for Bay Ridge.

It was announced vesterday that the Peo ple's singing classes, which were started in New York by Frank Damrosch in 1892, and extended to Brooklyn, will be extended to South Brooklyn. At present there are several ele-Brooklyn. At present there are several ele-mentary and advanced classes in New York and the Eastern District of Brooklyn. The first class to be started in South Brooklyn will be opened on Tuesday evening, Oct. 2, at Day's Hall, Third avenue and Fifty-fourth street, Bay Ridge, and will be known as the Bay Ridge class. Samuel Longhead, who lives in Sterling place, Brooklyn, is organizing the class.

As to Lots, Plots or Farms Readers of THE SUN always know when a good thing is presented. Let them know what you have to offer by using the advertising columns.—Adv.

Brooks, Constable & Co AUTUMN, 1900.

Dress Goods, Silks, Cloths and Flannels.

Newest fabrics, latest designs and colorings.

Broadway & 19th Street.

DEFAMING MRS. MOLINEUX.

A Published Article Calls Out a Letter From Gen. Molineux. TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN Sir: In the

Morning Telegraph, published this morning, an article appears, stating that on Thursday at midnight Mrs. Roland B. Molineux was at the restaurant known as Rector's Restaurant at Forty ofth street and Broadway in this city; that she was accompanied by a man and took supper there. Without repeating verbatim the statements in the article, the impression that was intended to be conveyed was undoubtedly that Mrs. Molineux was acting in a manner which was, to say the least, disregardful of her husband's present position. I wish absolutely to deny the truth of these statements. Mrs. Molineux is now and has been since the time of my son's conviction at Sing Sing with my wife and has been constantly in communication with her husband. The statements contained in the article to which I have referred are entirely without foundation, and it is unnecessary to say that they are cruel in the extreme. On the night in question I know positively that she was at Sing Sing with my wife and other relatives; and, furthermore, I am informed by her that she has not been in the restaurant in question at any time since her husband's arrest, and that, to the best of her recollection, she has never been there in her

I trust to the good faith and the sense of fairness of the press to publish this complete denial of the cruel libel which appeared to-day. I wish to take this opportunity to state that my son's wife is under my protection, and that her conduct at all times since the arrest of mg son has been in accordance with the wishes of mg wife and mgself, and that I shall take a dying condition at the time, having fallen on prompt measures to vindicate her against any such unfounded statements. Very truly yours, EDWARD L. MOLINEUX.

101 FULTON ST., New York, Sept. 8. CLEVER BANK SNEAK CAUGHT.

Suspected of the Bank of France's $80,000 Robbery-Disguise in His Pocket.

William Barrett, alias William Thompson. alias William Taylor, who is one of the cleverest bank sneaks known to the police, who is wanted in Cleveland and in Milwaukee for ball jump ing, and who, the police believe, was concerned in the robbery of $80,000 from a messenger of the Bank of France in Paris last March, was arrested on Friday night at Broadway and arrested on Friday night at Broadway and Twenty-third street by Detectives Stripp, Vallely and Cain of the Central Office. When arrested he had in his pocket, apparently ready for emergency when a quick disguise might be needed, a pair of smoked glasses, a soft slouch hat, a frandkerchief and a collar.

Barrett has worked the large cities for years with a gang of feur accomplices known to the police as George Willard, Dan Algin, Billy Burke and Mickey Gleeson. They dress well, live at the best hotels, and, the police say, don't bother with a theft unless there is a big stake in prospect. Barrett has been arrested and has escaped conviction a number of times, but he has also served two terms in prisonate of six years in the Hilmois State prison at Joliet and another of four years in a Pennsylvania prison, the latter for a bank robbery committed in 1894 at Pittsburg.

In July of 1899 in Cleveland, Ohlo, Barrett picked a pocketbook out of the pocket of a man who had just drawn a large sum from the

In July of 1889 in Cleveland, Ohio, Barrett picked a pocketbook out of the pocket of a man who had Just drawn a large sum from the bank. Soon after that he robbed a jeweler of $15,000 worth of jewelry. He was caught, but jumped his ball and went to Europe. Shortly after the Paris robbery, Barrett returned to this country. He was suspiciously well supplied with money, the police say, and he compromised the case with the Cleveland jeweller. The Cleveland police notified Capt. McClusky that Barrett was in the country and that he would be likely soon to be in New York. After Barrett's arrest on Friday night, however, the Cleveland authorities sent word that they had not sufficient evidence in the pocket-picking case to send for Barrett on requisition, and Capt. McClusky said yesterday that he would be held to await a demand for him from Milwaukee.

wankee.

The Parls authorities have not yet been noticed of Barrett's arrest. His photograph was aken yesterday for the Rogues' Gallery and the was exhibited to all of the Central Office deceives.

ENGAGED.

the engagement of Miss Blanche Horton, daugh-ter of Harry L Horton of 144 West 57th st. to Edward F. Hutton of New York.

MARRIED HOLBROOK-M'KINNEY .- On Saturday, Sept

8, 1900, at the residence of the bride's parents, be the Rev. A. J. Nock, D. D., Elliott Hanford Hol brook of Yonkers, N. Y., to Charlotte Gertrude, daughter of James Curtis McKinney, Esq., of

DIED.

BOWNE,-VETERANS OF THE SEVENTH REGI MENT. - M mpers are requested to attend the funeral service of William R. Howne Second Company) in accordance with notice by the family. THOMAS DIMOND, Colonel.

BRADLEY .- At Lake Mahopac, N. Y., on Sept. 7. 1900, Mary L., widow of John J. Bradley.

Funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's Cathedrai on Tuesday morning. Sept. 11, 1900, at 10 e'clock.

BRADY .- On Saturday, Sept. 8, 1900, at his restdence, 1552 Broadway, James B. Brady, aged 76 Ven's. Funeral service at St. Patrick's Cathedral on Tuesday morning.

RURROWS, -On Saturday, Sept. 8, 1900, Jane day, Sept. 11, 1900, at 11 A. M.

please copy.

McMillan Burrows, widow of Hugh Burrows of Clark's Mills, Mercer county, Pa., in the 85th year of her age.

Funeral from the residence of her son, Samuel McMillan, Morris Heights, New York city, Tuesday, Sept. 11, 1900, at 2 P. M. Belfast papers

HAY .- On Thursday, Sept. 6, 1980, Robert only surviving son of William and the late Mary Hay, 916 Lafayette av., Brooklyn, N. Y. HILLEBRECHT, - At Hackensack, N. J., Sept. 8, 1900, Dr. William A. Hillebrecht in his 27th William M. flutchison, 45 Euclid av., Hacken sack, N. J., Monday evening, Sept 10, 1900, at 7 o'clock. Interment in Lutheran Cemetery Tues-

VAN LIEW. On Friday, Sept. 7, 1900, Marie Louise, widow of Augustus T. Van Liew and daughter of the late Jane Kipp and Henry Durell. Funeral services from her late residence, Lawrence Park, on Monday, Sept. 10, 1900, at 11:30 A. M.

Carriages at Bronzville. Harlem Railroad, on arrival of train leaving Grand Central station at THE KENSICO CEMETERY.-Private station.

Harlem Rallroad, 3 minutes' ride from the Grand Central Depot. Office, 16 East 42d st.

Beligious Motices.

CONGREGATION "BETH ISRAEL"-Divine ser-CONGREGATION "BETH ISRAEL."—Divine services with song and sermons in German and English will be heid during the coming holidays in Majestic Hall, 128 East 125th M., between Lexington and Park aves, which is one of the finest most comfortable and best ventilated halls in Hariem. An excelient Cantor and an eloquent Rabbi will officiate under the supervision of the well-known Rev. I. Kartschmaroff. Seats to be secured at very reasonable prices at Majestic Hall daily, from 9 A. Mito 12 A. M., and from 6 P. M. to 10 P. M.
WEISSBACH, Secretary.

Le Boutillier Bros West 23rd Street.

Pedestrienne

Skirts, latest style, of double-faced all wool material, in Oxfords, greys and blues; deep stitching at bottom,

> $5.95 value $10.00

SEPARATE DRESS SKIRTS

of best quality all wool cheviot, new flare effects, lined with best quality percaline, velveteen binding,

Le Boutillier Bros

Horner's Furniture.

ALL THE NEW IDEAS.

This is what our stock presents all the time, but especially now with the daily arrival of all the latest productions of the home and foreign markets.

Drawing Room Suites in the elaborately gilded designs of Louis XIV., XV., XVI. periods and the Renaissance. Also a full line of the

Art Nouveau coverings as shown at the Paris Exhibition, together with the simpler styles in mahogany of the Chippendale and Sheraton periods now so much in vogue.

Dining Room Suites in all the fashionable effects and finishes.

Bedroom Suites in the newest styles in Manogany, Toona, Birch, Maple and other woods. Furniture needs for every room in the house, and in larger variety than can be seen elsewhere, with everything priced as low as standard goods can be offered. R. J. HORNER & CO., Furniture Makers and Importers, 61, 63, 65 West 23d Street, (Adjoining Eden Musee).

new Publications.

50°. -Burke's "Speeches," Croker's "Irish Songs, Monk Lewis's "Tales." PRATT, 161 6th as

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

MINIATURE ALMANAC THIS DAY. Sun rises 5 33 | Sun sets 6 21 | Moon rises ... HIGH WATER -THIS DAY. Sandy Hook ... 7.20 | Gov. I'd .. 7.52 | Hell Gate ... 9:48

Arrived-SATURDAY, Sept. 8. Artived—Saturday, Sept. 8.
U. S. cruiser Baltimore, Forsythe, Greenock, Aug. 22.
Se St. Louis, Passow, Southampton, Sept. 1.
Se Etruria, McKay, Liverpool, Sept. 1.
Se Grorg an Pariser, Liverpool, Aug. 29.
Se British Trader, Hutchinson, Antwerp Aug. 24.
Se Orizaba, Leighton, Campeche, Aug. 24.
Se Orizaba, Leighton, Campeche, Aug. 24.
Se San Juan, Sampson, Arroyo, Aug. 30.
Se City of Macon, Savage, Boston, Sept. 7.
Se San Marcus, Young, Galveston, Sept. 1.
Se Kansas City, Fisher, Savarnah, S. pt. 6.
Se Inquols, Bearse, Jacksonville, Sept. 5.
Se Pitterss Anne, Hiller, Norfolk, Sept. 7.
Bark Kremlin, Veazle, Bonaire, Aug. 25.

SAILED FROM FOREIGN PORTS. Ss La Lortaine, from Havre for New York. Ss Cymrie, from Queenstown for New York. Ss New York, from Southampton for New York

OUTGOING STEAMSHIPS.

Sall To morro Mails Close. Vessels Saft Iroquots, Charleston. Sall Tuesday, Sept. 11.
Lahn, Bremen 630 A M
Advance, Colon 950 A M
El Paso, New Orleans. Teutonic, Liverpool 9 00 A M St. Louis, Southampton 7 00 A M Westernland, Antwerp. 10 50 A M City of Wash'ton, Tampico 100 P M Seminoie, Charleston.

> INCOMING STEAMSHIPS Due To-day.

Due To-morroso. Due Wednesday, Sept. 12. Albano. Due Thursday, Sept. 13.

Mount Morris Bank's New President. The Mount Morris Bank has elected Louis M.

Schwan President, to fill the vacancy can the resignation of Thomas L. Watt, Mr will remain a member of the Board